FINANCIAL AID COMES TO SHU

Dr. Alan Reinerman, director of student loans, announced that financial aid under the National Defense Education Act is available to AB candidates at Sacred Heart. The loan, which grants 500 dollars per semester, is designed to encourage students to obtain a college education.

Any person who has been, or is about to be enrolled for a full academic year at this university, may apply by contacting Dr. Reinerman. To be eligible, applicants must have a 2.0 average and must establish proof of financial need.

Dr. Reinerman noted that special preference will be given to those students who have superior grades, and who have shown a desire to enter such fields as mathematics, engineering, modern languages, or education. Repayment of the total loan will be reduced annually by 10% of the student's earnings after the student enters into a teaching career.

The loan is repayable during a ten-year period which begins one year after the recipient ceases to be a student. Repayments are made in equal annual amounts. Dr. Reinerman stated: "I encourage students who are in need of financial assistance and have the necessary prerequisites to seriously consider the opportunities offered by the federal government."

SDE Grants Accreditation

Dr. William Conley, President
Noted Significance of Event

Dr. William Conley announced on Feb. 5 that the State Department of Education had granted full accreditation to Sacred Heart University.

The action was taken by the State Board of Education on the recommendation of the Standing Committee on Accreditation of the Cooperative College of Higher Education. During the first two years of operation a new institution is "licensed" and if it meets the requirements for an accredited college during that period, the accreditation is granted.

"This is a significant step in the development of the college," the President said. "It is necessary for teacher certification and the licensing of graduates. It also facilitates admission to programs in other institutions. Most of all, however, it is tangible evidence that the university is regarded as entirely satisfactory."

RABBI VIEWS MORAL CLIMATE

Rabbi Marvin Shapiro, noted lecturer, writer, and humanist, spoke on "The Moral Climate" in the contemporary United States at the Feb. 11 convocation.

Dr. Shapiro contended that immorality has always presented a problem for man. He stated that immorality is no worse today than in any preceding generation, but rather, "It's who we are to these conditions, though the conditions were always there."

Rabbi Shapiro proposed that "The Moral Climate" is measured by individual acts of men; and therefore can only be made desirable through the development of an inner conscience and an assuming of responsibility on the part of individuals. "Non-involvement," stated Rabbi Shapiro, "is a rejection of moralities."

Rabbi Shapiro explained that a moral attitude can be accomplished by schools which stress discipline, responsibility, and obedience; and by families which carry an atmosphere of inner-directed responsibility into every aspect of one's life. As a graduate of both the Hebrew College-Jewish Institute of Religion and the Catholic University of Dayton, he praised the atmosphere prevalent at religious institutions as a proper one for fostering good moral attitudes.

Dr. Shapiro concluded that there is no easy solution to the "challenge aimed at morals and religion today."
Thoughts on the World

By MARCEL deMULLER

We have recently witnessed the august gathering of the world's high and humble at the state funeral of Sir Winston Churchill in London. The solemn, yet triumphal funeral, recalled the singular life of Sir Winston and the bygone days when Britannia ruled the waves.

All these events were merely the cermonious trappings of world-wide sentiment. It is probable that each individual, be he friend or foe, of the invincible Briton, entertained his own personal sentiments of respect and appreciation. Along with the veneration came a thorough appraisal of the end and its present climate since the harrowing days when Churchill wielded his courage-inspiring power and the United Kingdom, all the while displaying his acid eloquence.

It appears that the Free World is still confronted with similar threats of total nuclear warfare, and anti-democratic subversive problems, which would tax the capacities of the dynamic Churchill. All over the world, as thoughts focused upon the deceased guardian of peace, there were, no doubt, feelings and aspirations for a lasting peace. It is through courage and the energy of men like Sir Winston Churchill that humanity moves closer to the dream of peace.

Sir Winston Churchill, in spite of his political capriciousness, and stubborn British complacency, was a man to be emulated. Aside from the eloquent eulogies and the funeral pomp, it is a fitting tribute that we emulate his manly individualism and indefatigable drive, so that one day the thing which Churchill strove so hard to attain, will evolve, peace.

Bard Revisits SHU

BY RICHARD A. MATZEK

Last year at about this time, William Shakespeare's writings were found to have certain applications to the fledgling SHU. As the University grows in years and numbers of faculty and students, it would be well to turn again to the Bard for words of wisdom guiding us in our hazardous journey to maturity. So once more we present: SHAKESPEARE ON SACRED HEART U - SNOW ON THE SHU CAMPUS

A little snow, tumbled about.
Anon becomes a mountain. King John, iii, 4, 176.
The white cold virgin snow upon my heart
Shakespear by my liver. The Tempest, iv, 1, 55.

FACTORU OFFICES, SPACIOUS AND QUIET.
Among the crowd i' the Abbey; where a finger
Could not be wedged in more. Henry VIII, iv, 1, 56.

SHU TO ACQUIRE ITS SECOND BUILDING!
Get thee to a nunnery. Hamlet, iii, 1, 122.

BASKETBALL PROBLEMS
I am not tall enough to become the function well. Twelfth Night, iv, 2, 7.
We shall never win at that sport. Merchant of Venice, iii, 2, 229.

THE STUDENT SUBMITS A PAPER
Student: Eleven hours I spent to write it over. Richard III, iii, 6, 5.
Teacher: Are they not lamely writ? Two Gentlemen of Verona, ii, 1, 92.
Student: I will write again. Romeo and Juliet, iv, 2, 28.

REGISTERING FOR A SUPPOSEDLY EASY COURSE
Fray you, give it to me, for I am slow of study. Midsummer Night's Dream, i, 2, 69.

FOOD IN THE CAFETERIA
The well rounded menu:
We'll have flesh for holidays, fish for fasting days,
and moreover puddings and flap-jacks. Pericles, ii, 1, 85.

SOME SEEM TO LIKE THE FOOD:
Fair ladies, you drop manna in the way of starved people. Merchant of Venice, v, 1, 294.

OTHERS, HOWEVER:
All viands that I eat do seem unsavoury. Pericles, ii, 1, 85.

NIGHT FALLS IN THE STUDENT LOUNGE
The soul-rolling music. Rape of Lucrece, 1, 199.

FINAL GRADES ARRIVE HOME
Father: If he chance to fail, he hath sentenced himself. Measure for Measure, iii, 2, 271.
Mother: What were his marks? As You Like It, iii, 2, 391.
Student: I pass not! II Henry VI, iv, 2, 136.

FOR THOSE WHO MADE THE DEAN'S LIST
From this day to the ending of the world
But in it shall be remembered.
We few, we happy few... Henry V, iv, 3, 50.

CAMPUS LIFE

By LOIS D’ANDBEA

A new student group COR (Collegeans Organized for Responsibility) was recently formed on campus. A group of faculty members plan discussions and lectures by professional leaders through which the members will “grow in a knowledge of organization, responsibility, leadership, and service.”

Mr. John White, theology teacher, has formed a men’s swimming team. Practices are held on Tuesday evenings at the North End Boys Club. All female students at SHU are invited to join. The team plans to have a series of workouts to prepare for the fall season, when it hopes to enter competition.

The University Film Club will show two films, “The Sea Around Us” and “Five Fingers” on Sunday, Feb. 28, at 7 p.m. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Panta Delphian Society.

A panel of SHU co-eds discussing “The Woman Today” may be heard over WSHU-FM Wednesdays at 1:00 p.m. Members of the panel are: Connie Fiore, Marilyn Rehig, Barbara Nishball, and Mary Ann Reynolds.

Mr. Thomas Schelret, history instructor, is presenting a history series, “Sights and Sounds of America” each Tuesday evening at 6:30 p.m. over WSHU-FM.

The Sacred Heart University catalogue for 1965-66 was published recently. The catalogue, which contains a list of course offerings and the school calendar, may be obtained in the Dean’s office.

A group of SHU students has taken the opportunity to develop their musical talents by teaching vocal music at Kolbe High School.

These “student-teachers” are Bernie Cooke, John Dombrowski, Norman De Rosiers, Thom Glynn, Martin Podolak, and Dennis Swidow.

A Musicology Club has been formed on campus. The purpose of this organization is to promote congregational singing in area churches.

The group, composed of members of the Mixed Chorus and the Music Appreciation class, will sing at St. Michael’s Church in Greenwich on Feb. 21.

SHU’s Mixed Chorus, under the direction of Miss Alice Paulski, will perform on Feb. 26 at St. Ambrose Hall. The program will include: “You’ll Never Walk Alone,” and “Shal­om,” Colleen Reidy, Bernadette Williams, and Berriette Cooke will accompany the chorus on the piano. Solo selections will be presented by Barbara Nishball, and Stephen Dooley will accompany themselves on the guitar.

Mr. Lawrence Skane and Mr. Douglas Bohn, instructors of mathematics, are offering a series of lectures on “Abstract Concepts of Modern Math.” These lectures are held on Thursdays at 3:00 p.m. in room 106. All interested students are invited to attend.

The Kreutzer Society announces “Challenge,” a film and lecture to be presented by Mr. Arthur Jarvis, coordinator of the Youth Interracial Council of Redding, Connecticut. All students and faculty members are invited to attend on March 3 at 3:00 p.m., room 218.

A Madrigal mixer sponsored by the freshman class will take place Feb. 26 from 8-12 p.m. The “Playboys” will be featured at this last social event before Lent. Admission will be $1.00, stag; and $1.50, couples.

The History Club will hold its next meeting at Janice diCecere’s house Feb. 26 at 7:30 p.m. Biographical sketches of various historical characters, including Martha Naphin, will be presented. At 12:01 select members of the history department will savor “hot” pepperoni.

History Dept. Gives Lecture

Continued from PAGE 1 at 3 p.m. in room 218. This period of American history runs from approximately 1880 to 1900 and deals with such men as William Jennings Bryan, Theodore Roosevelt, and William McKinley. Popular songs of the age, folk music, and speeches will be played to illustrate the social strife which took place in that period.

“Thirty Years of Progressive America — And After,” “The New Deal to World War II,” and “Anxiety and Tension in Postwar America” will be presented on April 1, 29, and May 6 respectively.

CO-ED CAGERS MAKE DEBUT BOW TO GOOD COUNSEL

The girls’ basketball team made its debut Feb. 8 in the SHU gym, where it played host to Good Counsel College of White Plains, New York. With some 200 curiously observers at SHU took possession of the ball at 7:15, and the game officially began. SHU made the first points of the game, but Good Counsel stayed right behind them. By the end of the first half the Pioneers were holding a one point lead, with the score 13-12. But in the third quarter Good Counsel took a 21-17 lead. The fourth quarter was slowed down because of a few minor accidents, but Good Counsel went on to win the game by a score of 25-20. High scorers in the game were Maryann Cassidy from Good Counsel with 10 points, and Betty Gerner from SHU with 8 points.

Members of the SHU team include: Karen Sutter (cap­tain), Dale O'Dowd, Joan Cer­nafeld, Karen Lueddecker, and Regina Sullivan.

The University of Bridgeport Frosh refused to fold and hung on to pull out an 85-82, double-overtime victory over the Pioneers of SHU.

The Pioneers, led by Joe Griffiths, who tied the school's single game scoring mark set last year by Bill Elliott, carried the Pioneers as much as a nine-point bulge before they ran out of gas late in the second half. Sacred Heart was hampered in its effort by the loss of Dave Riehl who injured his ankle at the onset of the second half, and by the inability of Bill Elliott to play up to par due to foul trouble.

The Pioneers, trailing at the half 37-34, surged ahead in the final stanza on the shooting of Griffiths who scored 24 of his 34 points in the second half.

UB chipped away at the Pioneers' lead and sent the game into the first overtime period as Gary Stueue knotted the score at 60-60 with 41 seconds left in regulation time. The Purple Knights pulled ahead in opening seconds of the extra period but Griffiths dumped in three hoops to draw even with the UB five, 75-75, and earned an extra chance for the Pioneers. The Bridgeport Frosh took the tap at the start of the second overtime and quickly piled up a substantial lead, but the Pioneers fought back and trailed 83-82 with 35 seconds left. Then UB's Gerry Gold pumped in two free throws with 27 seconds remaining to finish the scoring.

Third in a Row

This was the third heart-breaking loss in a row for the Pioneers, who were dropped to their last three games by a combined total of five points. Griffiths, undoubtedly the most outstanding player in the game, headed all scorers with 34 points. Bill Elliott, playing the second half and both overtime periods with four fouls charged against him, turned in a creditable 21 points. UB was led by game-saving Gary Stueue who finished up with 21 points.

PIONEERS EXTEND UCONN 94-93

Ron Rotella's four clutch free-throws, two coming in the final 11 seconds of play gave the Waterbury Branch of UCONN victory over a stubborn SHU combination.

The game, which was marked by phenomenal shooting by both clubs, saw the Pioneers surge back from a 15 point deficit to a one point spread at the final buzzer.

The Waterbury team took charge of the ball at the outset and appeared to be enroute to an easy victory as they scored the first 28 points and led 28 to 10. The Pioneers, although they have played a near perfect pace as they kept the visitors out to increase UCONN's margin to 20 points, battled back with three seconds to be played and trailed 52-44 at the half.

Craig DeCerb, Dave Zastury, and Rotella led the Branch attack in the last 11 minutes of play with three seconds to be played, and trailed 52-44 at the half.

Elliott pops for two against UCONN as Griffiths looks on.

Portrait of a Basketball Player

Joe Griffiths

Joe can play basketball. His assortment of unorthodox drives, shots is second only to his deadly, outside set-shot, accurate up to 35 feet. Even with his small 6 ft. 1 in. 205 lb. frame, he gains more than his share of rebounds. Though his assists are often overlooked, they are nevertheless kept by teammates and opponents alike.

This is a portrait of Joseph Griffiths, who like many of his teammates learned his basketball outside shot. In his junior and senior years, Joe played varsity ball for Bridgeport Central high school. As a reserve he averaged seven points per game. At Sacred Heart, "Griff" came into his own. After a shaky start, he shot up to the number two scorer on the squad. His best game of the year was against St. Thomas Seminary.

In the final stanza the Pioneers managed to cut the Huskies' advantage to one point, 88-87 with the clock running out. With 1:27 left to be played, DeCerb canned two free throws to boost UCONN's lead 90-87. Ray Mandriola then brought the Pioneer five to within one again with less than a minute to play. Rotella threw in a pair of foul tosses with 40 seconds left to increase UCONN's margin to three, and then returned to the charity line 29 seconds later "to add the icing to the cake." HANK JASZKIEWICZ's hoop with three seconds to be played only showed the Sacred Heart rooters how close they came.

DeCerb led all scorers in the game with 32 points. His effort was backed up by Rotella and Zastury with 19 and 14 points respectively for the home team. Bill Elliott was the big man for the Pioneers throwing in 31 points and hauling down 26 rebounds. Dave Riehl followed with 20 points and 12 rebounds. Joe Griffiths, Jeff Hohl, and Hank Jaszkiewicz with 14, 12, and 11 points respectively rounded out a well-balanced scoring attack for the Pioneers.

Eastern College Basketball Report

The East presents a genuine scramble for the at-large (independent) bids to the NCAA tournament. Providence's Cinderella Friars have reeled off nineteen straight victories without a loss, although they have played a relatively weak schedule. Their top victory was a standout win over St. John's (Pa.), providing the Hawks with their only loss in twenty six.

Joe Lapichick's St. John's team proved its worth with an upset victory over Michigan's Wolverines in the holiday Festiva. The Redmen, who have one of the roughest schedules in the East, are led by the brothers McIntyre and 6'8" soph. Sonny Dove.

In the Ivy League, Cornell is the surprising leader over favored Princeton and it should be a race to the wire. With Steve Cram and Marv Van Leeuwen, the Big Red has sailed along averaging over 85 points per game. They should be hard to catch. But if anyone can, the Princeton's Tiger is the team to do it. Led by Crystal City, Missouri's Bill Bradley, the Tigers were supposed to be a shoe-in to repeat as champs of the Ivy League. With Bradley, a Rhodes scholar, Olympian, and 3rd year All-American, soph Bob Brown (6'9") and top scorer Van Breda Koff's Tigers could overhaul Cornell in their showdown Feb. 27.

In the Yankee Conference, Maine's Mike Hance led all scorers in the first half as they knocked off their last three games by a combined total of five points.
