Different other things to see and do at the Edgerton Center

holidays

The 1940's Radioland Christmas Show

Featuring:
"It's a Wonderful Life: A Live Radio Play"

Adaptation and Additional Dialogue by Joe Landry

Directed by Kevin Connors

Musical Staging by Maureen Hamill

Co-produced with Stamford Center for the Arts

The Generations Program

Connecticut Children’s Theatre and The Edgerton Center for the Performing Arts is pioneering a new community outreach program. The Generations Program brings together senior citizens and children throughout the community before, during and after performances. The goal is simple: for a few precious moments, there is no generation gap. Please call ECPA for details.

Auditions

Auditions for Connecticut Children’s Theatre shows will be held at The Edgerton Center and will be scheduled approximately eight weeks prior to each show. For more information go to the ECPA website or call the ECPA Administration office: 203-371-7908. Please see next page for play descriptions.

Theatre Arts Workshops

Please give us a call regarding upcoming Theatre Arts Workshops for children. Workshops and Camps will be held for Pre-k through high school throughout the year.

Box Office: 203-374-2777

Stages

Fred Garbo Inflatable Theatre Co.
Best enjoyed by all ages
October 2, 2005, 3pm

Complimentary Admission for Edgerton Center Celebration.
Tickets available on a first come, first served basis. Hilarious physical comedy that is great for the whole family! Mesmerizing juggling and fast paced fun packaged into Garbo’s legendary INFLATABLES!

Steven Wright
October 14, 2005, 8pm
$40 Prime Seating
$32, $25 General Public
$27, $20 Student/Senior/Faculty/Staff/Alumni

This Academy Award-winning comedian comes to the intimate Edgerton Center with his unique brand of reality-twisting musings and his trademark deadpan delivery. An evening not to be missed!

The Tamburitzans
Best enjoyed by all ages
February 19, 2006, 2pm
$27 General Public
$22 Student/Senior/Faculty/Staff/Alumni
$15 Children

A traditional favorite here at the Edgerton Center. This well-loved ensemble encapsulates the joys of life and the beauty of the many cultures which it artistically represents.

Michael Cooper, Masked Marvels & Wondertales
Best enjoyed by all ages
April 23, 3pm, Family Show
$15 General Public
$10 Student/Senior/Faculty/Staff/Alumni
$10 Children

Michael Cooper’s one-man extravaganza features his breathtaking handcrafted masks, original stories of courage and wonder, outlandish stilts-dancing and a physical repertoire that ranges from the mad cap to the sublime. There will be a “hands-on” workshop for kids as part of the day’s festivities.

General Information

- Senior is 62 and over/Children are 12 and under
- Students/Faculty/Staff must have valid ID
- Website for more info: http://edgertoncpa.sacredheart.edu
- Box Office Hours: Weekdays 12pm-4pm, 2 hours prior to show
- Administration Office: 203-371-7908
- Groups are 10 or more.
- Concessions available at all shows for patron convenience
Connecticut Children’s Theatre is a professional theatre company for families and children. CCT has performed for over one million children from Washington D.C. to Boston. CCT producers are Grammy®-nominated for “Best Spoken Word for Children” and have worked with some amazing artists, including Bea Arthur, Marla Gibbs, John Lithgow, Marcel Marceau, Zelda Rubinstein, Lorenzo Lamas, Peter Walker, Bernie Kopel and Max Showalter. Now, CCT will create and produce professional shows and theatre arts workshops for area families, schools and children on the stage of The Edgerton Center.

Mr. Snowman

Connecticut Children’s Theatre

Best enjoyed by pre-k through 3rd grades

- December 8 and 9, 2005, 10am (for school field trips)
- December 10, 2pm, Family Show

$15 General Public • $10 Student/Senior/Faculty/Staff/Alumni • $10 Children • $8 Groups

Follow the adventures of two young friends, Harold and Maggie, as they build a snowman and watch him magically come to life! Filled with holiday sing-a-longs, this holiday favorite features a blizzard on stage and a special visit from Santa Claus himself!

Patty’s Place

Connecticut Children’s Theatre

Best enjoyed by pre-k through 3rd grades

- February 10, 2006, 10am (for school field trips)
- February 11, 2pm, Family Show

$15 General Public • $10 Student/Senior/Faculty/Staff/Alumni • $10 Children • $8 Groups

Patty’s Place is the critically acclaimed live musical show for young children, which promotes artistic creativity and exemplifies that it is our differences that make us special. Hosted by internationally lauded performer and singer Patty Carver and Connecticut’s own John Banker, the show features local artistic guests with a cast of warm and crazy town characters. The perfect way to introduce the excitement of performing and visual arts to young children.

Seneca Falls: Women of American History

Connecticut Children’s Theatre

Best enjoyed by 4th through 8th grades and adults

- March 20 - 24, 2006, 10am (for school field trips)
- March 24 and 25, 8pm, and March 26, 3pm Family Show

$15 General Public • $10 Student/Senior/Faculty/Staff/Alumni • $10 Children • $8 Groups

In 1848 women were denied an education, property, religious freedom, wealth and the right to vote...until Lucretia Mott, Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Susan B. Anthony changed it all. In this world premier full length musical, meet the brilliant, quirky and courageous Americans that sowed the seeds of the Women's Rights Movement. And it all began in Seneca Falls.
The stage is a place of wonder and surprise. Since childhood I have been inspired by the creativity of the artists that bring us exciting drama, beautiful music, graceful dance and just plain fun. During school, many people take dance lessons, join the school play, sing in the choir or become energized by writing their own stories for a class assignment. Research has now proven that young people active in the arts have higher grades and achieve more academically. Although most of us never end up on the stage for a career, it is safe to say that experiencing the performing arts during our academic years will somehow influence us as adults. Perhaps it will add a spark of creativity in our chosen profession, reduce our fear of public speaking, allow us to see a situation in our lives from a new perspective or just appreciate the beauty of an artist’s work. The stage of Edgerton Center for the Performing Arts has been faithfully contributing to SHU students, faculty, alumni and the families of Fairfield County for well over 20 years. We hope that you will consider The Edgerton your arts center. A home for you and your family that strives to present programming that will move you, make you think and fill you with joy.

-Jerry Goehring
Executive Director, The Edgerton Center for the Performing Arts