Kickoff Party
The Class of '95 started off a week of exciting events with the Kickoff Party on Tuesday, May 8th. Senior Week, the days leading up to graduation, had the theme "Last Call Folks — Class of '95".

The Kickoff Party was held on the patio and under the tent outside the dining hall. The entertainment included E.T.A., a band that played music from classic rock 'n roll to modern pop.

Seniors could also enjoy carnival events and rides, along with a caricaturist. And of course, there was plenty of food and drinks served in picnic fashion. Under the tent, the seniors also had the opportunity to provide entertainment for each other by participating in karaoke, a perennial favorite.

The seniors also were able to take home cups embossed with the theme as souvenirs of the night.
On Wednesday at 8 PM, the seniors boarded shuttles to travel from Sacred Heart to Norwalk for an evening cruise. The weather was perfect for a night spent on the Norwalk shores in the boat — “Sea of Enchantment.” During the cruise the seniors were able to view such beautiful sights as the Darien Lighthouse.

The cruise provided a wonderful opportunity to make new memories with old friends. During their trip Sacred Heart’s seniors enjoyed an abundance of drinks and food. Drinks were served on the deck, while downstairs the booming DJ provided music, dancing, and fun — known to some as entertainment.

Students were given keychains as tokens of the night. When the cruise ended between 12 and 1 AM, shuttles were provided as transportation back to Sacred Heart.
Shake and Bake Luau
Thursday night Senior Week continued with the Shake and Bake Luau. As students arrived at the Fairfield Pavilion they were presented with leis to add to the festive luau atmosphere. The Shake and Bake, also a pig roast, was held close to home at Fairfield Beach. Dinner was served in the lovely buffet fashion.

The Luau was certainly not lacking for entertainment. For the first part of the night music was provided by a band, All the Voices. During the second part of the evening, laughs were provided by comedian David J.

Seniors had fun playing games on the beach and participating in a limbo contest. Some chose to participate in a game of whiffle ball, while others enjoyed walks along the beach. A few daring people even went for a dip.
Champagne Brunch
The Class of '95 came together to celebrate their four years of hard work at Sacred Heart University on Friday morning. The celebration took place in the form of a Champagne Breakfast in the Dining Hall. Denise Stuphin got the ball rolling by reading a poem entitled “Bits and Pieces” as a toast to the class. Ironically, the fire alarm sounded as she began her presentation.

While enjoying their champagne, the seniors were able to feast on an extensive brunch. They were able to keep their glasses as a keepsake of this glorious event.

The past played an important part in the gala. The Class of '95 looked on while a video yearbook of their time here at Sacred Heart was unveiled. It was a chance for Sacred Heart's seniors to take a look back at how far they have come in their four years here.
Commencement Ball
The evening of the Champagne Brunch brought even more excitement with the Commencement Ball. A semiformal gathering, it was held at Oronoque Country Club in Shelton. A sit down dinner, with three meal choices, was served.

With almost the whole senior class in attendance, the Ball was a great success. Amusement for the night was provided in a multitude of ways. Since it was a “Ball”, there was a DJ and plenty of dancing. The DJ tried to get everyone involved by offering cash prizes to those with such things as: the biggest earrings or the ugliest tie.

Many tears were shed during the final song of the evening which was appropriately entitled “Last Dance”. Students were given frames as a memento from the Commencement Ball.
Baccalaureate Mass and
Students, parents, faculty and staff came together in the gym to take part in the Baccalaureate Mass on Saturday morning. Students were deeply involved in the ceremony, participating through readings or singing in the choir.

With greetings read in several different languages, the Mass was definitely a multi-cultural event. Immediately following the Mass, an awards ceremony was held.

Later in the day, on the eve of their graduation, seniors had the opportunity to spend time with their family and friends during the Parent Dinner Dance. Starting at 8 PM, the event was held under the tent. Raffles were held for such things as an answering machine, a telephone, videos and gift certificates.
The Twenty-ninth Commencement of Sacred Heart University took place on May 21, 1995 on the football field. The Master of Ceremonies for the event was Thomas J. Trebon, Ph.D., Provost and Vice President of Academic Affairs.

During the ceremony three honorary degrees were given to Elie Wiesel, Diane Carlson Evans, R.N., and William Pitt. Wiesel, known as "the spiritual archivist of the Holocaust", gave the Commencement Address.

The valedictorian was Cesar Munoz Aceber, while Aysun Tezveren Johnson and Melinda J. Tucci were the salutatorians. A total of 895 degrees were given out for the year.
PHILIP ROSSETTI
"Live your life each day as you would climb a mountain. An occasional glance toward the summit keeps the goal in mind, but many beautiful scenes are to be observed from each new vantage point. Climb slowly, steadily, enjoying each passing moment; and the view from the summit will serve as a fitting climax for the journey."

The Prologue staff would like to thank the following people for all their help in the creation of this book:

Kevin Kelly - Student Editor
Julie DuBose - Brian Ash
Lisa Stumpf - JP Vellone
Heidi Rendahl - Keith Zinder
Dottie Connors - Mike Shane
Lisa Wilson - Nanci Shavelle
Public Safety - Chris Nicholson

This year Laura Geier, our Editor-in-Chief, had the incredible difficult task of pulling together a 192 page book with a mostly inexperienced staff. Despite many struggles and setbacks, Laura always kept a positive, upbeat attitude. Flipping through the '95 Prologue you can see her unique touch in almost every aspect of the book, especially in some of her beautiful scenic photography. Her dedication and hard work are a testament to her dedication to the book.

Nicole Schmidt really came into her own at the end of the semester and was given the title Assistant Editor-in-Chief because of all her hard work that continued after all the students had gone home for the summer. Together, Tricia, Laura, and Nicole, Co-editors of the Athletic section, took on the task of covering all the sports teams here at St. Joe. Despite a shortage of pictures, Tricia picked up the project for a second year in a row.

Kim Buzzell and Lauren McKinley were the Editors of the Clubs and Organizations section this year. They worked on the task of photographing each club, collecting write-ups and designing layouts for their pages. Both put in a tremendous amount of work which helped us out greatly.

You may have seen Lynne Kulakowski, Editor of the Activities section, at most of the events on campus. Lynne attended many of the events with a camera in her hand. She photographed, designed layouts, and wrote copy to show you all the fun and exciting events that happened on campus this year. Kathy Bump, Editor of the Student Life section, gathered copy and pictures for all four resident halls and wrote for the commuters. She saved us out when we really needed it.

Al Precourt and Deb Roselli-Kelly served as our Co-advisors this year. They were both a vital part of the staff and there is no way the book would have gotten done without their help and support. They have truly been our Guiding Lights. Thank you Al and Deb!
Just as a river branches itself, passing in and out, stepping stones of the waters spread their soothing touch over mother earth. We too must open our hearts to all whom we encounter. For it is through these strong interpersonal relations that we must learn about ourselves while enlightening the minds of others.

If someone listens, or stretches out a hand, or whispers a kind word of encouragement, or attempts to understand a lonely person, extraordinary things start to happen.

- Loretta Girtaris

As you take all you have learned here at Sacred Heart and venture on with your journey through life with all its twists and turns, remember everything you do brings you one step closer to your goals, dreams and aspirations. Each day represents a stepping stone in discovering who you are and where you are going. We sincerely hope that the 1995 Prologue will help you discover all the beautiful things in life.
