Her family and those she has helped call her an angel on Earth.

Maryann Furlong, however, director of The Thomas Merton Center in Bridgeport, believes she is the one who has benefited most during nearly 30 years of feeding the homeless and working as a nurse for children and for the dying.

“When I see people who are facing such terrible adversity and still manage to smile, be cheerful and have such a deep faith in God, then these are the people I want to be near...because they have something special and I want to discover what it is,” she has said.

It is this humble attitude that has endeared Mrs. Furlong to her family, friends and those she has worked with and touched during her career and life.

After graduating from the University of Connecticut in 1967 with a bachelor’s degree in nursing, Mrs. Furlong’s love of children led her to become a pediatric staff nurse at St. Francis Hospital in Hartford.

A decade later, her deep compassion for the elderly led her to work as a home care nurse for Hospice in Branford. She later became a nurse-case manager at the Elizabeth Street Group Home in Derby and a nursing assistant instructor at Eli Whitney Technical School in Hamden. In all, Mrs. Furlong spent 14 fulfilling years as a nurse.

Then she decided to help people in a different way, beginning another meaningful career as a social worker by first volunteering in a soup kitchen.
In 1987, she was appointed assistant director of The Thomas Merton House of Hospitality, a non-profit day shelter and soup kitchen in Bridgeport that now serves 350 people breakfast and lunch every day. Mrs. Furlong was named director of the expanded Merton Center in 1993.

Mrs. Furlong received both a certificate of professional studies in substance abuse from the University of Connecticut, and a master’s degree in counseling from St. Joseph College of West Hartford in 1990.

She lives in Ansonia with her husband, Thomas. They are the parents of three adult sons, all of whom praise her as a woman filled with feeling and compassion.

On this 19th day of May 1996, Sacred Heart University bestows an extraordinary honor on itself as it confers the degree, Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa, upon

Carmen A. Tortora Sr., founder of the Carolton Chronic and Convalescent Hospital in Fairfield, is a prominent area businessman and philanthropist who has been a leader in numerous civic and charitable organizations.

But those who know him best say that Mr. Tortora’s greatest accomplishment of all may well be, with his wife, Agnes, raising a family of 14 children — all of whom are college graduates.

Mr. Tortora graduated from the Junior College of Connecticut and attended Tufts University and Fordham Law School before serving in the U.S. Army.

A trustee emeritus of Sacred Heart University, he has always taken an active role in various aspects of education. He founded and served as president of the Warren Institute Business School and later established the Warren Technical Institute, the Warren Employment Agency, the Stenotype School and the Norwalk School of Business. More than 12,000 students completed programs at these schools before beginning their business careers.

Mr. Tortora, who is a trustee of the Quinnipiac College School of Law, has served as a trustee at several universities, including the University of Bridgeport, Fairfield University, Mount St. Mary’s College and the Center for Nursing Innovations Board of Yale University. He is a past president of the Connecticut Business School Association.

For 29 years, Mr. Tortora served as general chairman of the local Cancer Crusade for the American Cancer Society. In 1989, he was presented the organization’s Ella T. Grasso Award for outstanding contributions in the fight against cancer.

Why has he felt compelled to help others? “My view about life is that you have to have a little knowledge and develop it ... but even more importantly, you have to have a lot of compassion and develop that, too, in order to make the world a better place.”
Mr. Tortora began making the world a better place in 1952 when, as a pioneer in the state’s health-care industry, he established two nursing homes in Bridgeport. Two years later, he founded the Carolton Hospital, which under his direction has expanded from an original 36 beds to its current 229. He remains president and administrator of Carolton, making him the longest-serving administrator in Connecticut.

Mr. Tortora was a founding member of the Connecticut Association of Extended Health Care Facilities and is a member of many state and national organizations, such as the National Geriatrics Society and the American Health Care Association. His achievements in the field of geriatrics earned him an honorary Doctor of Science degree from the University of Bridgeport in 1985.

On this 19th day of May 1996, Sacred Heart University bestows an extraordinary honor on itself as it confers the degree, Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa, upon

David E.A. Carson

He heads New England’s largest savings bank, is considered among Fairfield County’s most important and influential business leaders and is a nationally renowned banking leader.

And yet what drives People’s Bank President and Chief Executive Officer David E.A. Carson is a strong commitment to education and a love for the arts.

A trustee emeritus of Sacred Heart University, Mr. Carson is devoted to education. He is chairman of the Bridgeport Public Education Fund, founder of the Bridgeport Future Initiatives and trustee of a public magnet school in Bridgeport, as well as former chairman of the board of the Hartford Seminary.

“Anyone concerned about the social and economic growth of our nation must be concerned about the education of our young people,” he likes to say. “I take an active role because I believe that you should never live or work in a community without leaving it better than you found it.”

Mr. Carson is a man of deeply ingrained values who has already helped to make the Bridgeport community a better place in which to live and work. Since 1983, he has been president of People’s Bank — guiding his institution through the recession when some banks failed and building a financial giant that now maintains $6.6 billion in assets.

Named CEO in 1985, he has been instrumental in expanding People’s multi-faceted customer services, believing that innovation and change must be a hallmark of successful 21st Century banking. Supermarket banking, with full-service branches open in supermarkets seven days a week, is one example of his creative vision.

Despite multiple commitments at the bank, Mr. Carson makes time to be active in civic and charitable causes and organizations. On the national level, he is chairman of America’s Community Bankers, a trade association of more than 2,000 savings and community banks.
He is a trustee and former chairman of the board of Connecticut Public Broadcasting and past chairman of the Connecticut Business and Industry Association, a business lobbying group.

Born near Liverpool, Mr. Carson came to the U.S. in 1938 and was made a naturalized citizen in 1951. He graduated from the University of Michigan School of Business Administration in 1955 and received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from the University of New Haven in 1988.

True to his adopted city, he resides in Bridgeport’s Black Rock section with his wife, Sara. They have three grown children and two grandchildren.

On this 19th day of May 1996, Sacred Heart University brings an extraordinary honor to itself as it confers its highest accolade, the degree Doctor of Laws, honoris causa, upon

Academic Dress

Tradition holds that the cap and gown were first used in ancient Greece when only youths of wealthy parents or ones with patrons attended school. The wise teachers of the time believed that fine clothing and jewels should not be worn by the scholar but rather, that he should wear the garments of the workman.

In the United States, the gown commonly worn for both the associate’s and bachelor’s degrees has pointed sleeves (with a slit for the arm). It is designed to be worn closed. The gown for the master’s degree has an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist. The gown for the doctor’s degree has bell-shaped open sleeves. All gowns are black and without trimming with the exception of the doctor’s which normally is trimmed with velvet, has three bars or chevrons on the sleeves and may be in distinctive color(s) governed by the school granting that degree. Master’s and doctor’s gowns may be worn open.

Upon Graduation, each student of old carried a mortarboard showing him to be a mason of the future destined to build empires or cities or fountains of wisdom on the firm foundation of knowledge. To this day, graduates wear the mortarboard cap and gown, symbolizing that they are builders of the future of humankind.

The history of the hood, with which degree recipients are invested, dates back to 13th century England. Whether its origin is ecclesiastical or secular has never been settled. Hoods are two and one-half feet long for the associate’s, three feet for the bachelor’s, three and one-half for the master’s and four feet for the doctor’s degree. The hood is lined with the colors of the institution — red and white, in the case of Sacred Heart University. The color of the trim indicates the academic degree — white for arts, letters and humanities (B.A.), golden yellow for science (B.S.).

The hoods of those with graduate degrees, as well as the tassels on the mortarboards of the undergraduates, are often in the color associated with the academic field of specialization, as follows:

- White
  - Arts, Letters and Humanities
  - Drab
  - Business
  - Light Blue
  - Education
  - Brown
  - Fine Arts
  - Purple
  - Law
  - Crimson
  - Media Studies

- Apricot
  - Nursing
  - Dark Blue

University History — The Seal

The official seal of Sacred Heart University was introduced on July 22, 1963. It was designed by Frank Sullivan, an art teacher in New Jersey. Sullivan had been commissioned to design the seal by his friend, Dr. Maurice J. O'Sullivan, Sacred Heart University's first Academic Dean, who came here from New Jersey's Seton Hall University. The original pen and ink hangs in the Diocesan museum at The Catholic Center in Bridgeport.

The original seal consists of a shield, a surrounding wreath of hearts and flowers, the symbol of the Sacred Heart, and the inscription “Universitas Sacri Cordis” in large letters on the outside of the seal and “Dioecesis Bridgeportensis, 1963” on the inner circle.

The shield consists of a dexter — the right hand side of a shield (the left as seen by the viewer) — and a sinister — the left hand side of a shield (the right as seen by the viewer). The dexter impalement bears, according to custom in ecclesiastical heraldry, the jurisdictional arms of the Diocese of Bridgeport. The sinister impalement displays the personal coat of arms of The Most Reverend Walter W. Curtis, S.T.D., the founder of Sacred Heart University and the second Bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport. By joining these arms to the Diocesan impalement on the same shield, the spiritual union of a Bishop with his See is heralded.

The dexter consists of a bridge above wavy bars, which forms a worthy specimen of canting arms or “armes parlantes” of which the medieval heralds were so fond. Canting arms sing out and proclaim the name or office of the bearer. The bridge is an appropriate symbol for the Diocese of Bridgeport. The wavy lines beneath the bridge represent water in heraldry and afford an adequate expression of “port” in the name of the city. The Cross of Our Faith above the bridge dignifies the other symbols and identifies the coat as that of a jurisdiction of the Roman Catholic Church.

The sinister impalement is based on that of the Irish Curtis family which consists of horizontal bars, surmounted with a central bar of checks. To differentiate these family arms and make them unique to Bishop Curtis, two lozenges (diamond-shaped objects) have been taken from the coat of the Costello family to honor the Bishop’s mother. The crescent, the symbol of Our Lady under the title of the Immaculate Conception, is substituted to signify the years which Bishop Curtis spent as a professor of moral theology at Immaculate Conception Seminary. The shield on the Sacred Heart University seal bears most of the impalements of Bishop Curtis’ Coat of Arms, minus the colors and a few symbols.

Sometime in the early 1980s, the wreath of hearts and flowers was changed to a simple wreath of laurels, probably the result of a liberal designer’s handiwork to make the seal more readable in a reduced size.
University History

The Name

Sacred Heart University was founded in 1963 by the Most Reverend Walter W. Curtis, S.T.D., the second Bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport, to provide an institution of higher education that would serve the needs of the people of the diocese and region, regardless of their sex, race, creed or religion.

In October 1962, Bishop Curtis announced both the plan to open a college the following September, and its name, “Sacred Heart.” The choice of name had a dual origin: it was the name of the Bishop’s first pastorate in Bloomfield, N.J., and was a pledge from the Bishop attesting to the value of such an institution.

The Mission

Sacred Heart University is a co-educational, independent, comprehensive institution of higher learning in the Catholic intellectual tradition whose primary objective is to prepare men and women to live in and make their contributions to the human community.

The University aims to assist in the development of people who are knowledgeable of self, rooted in faith, education in mind, compassionate in heart, responsive to social and civic obligations, and able to respond to an ever-changing world. It does this by calling forth the intellectual potential of its students, nurturing each one’s spiritual and moral growth, and deepening in them a sense of social responsibility. The University is committed to combining education for life with preparation for professional excellence.

Sacred Heart University is Catholic in tradition and spirit. As a Catholic university, it seeks to play its appropriate role in the modern world. It exemplifies in its life the Judeo-Christian values of the God-given freedom and dignity of every human person. Inspired by the ecumenical spirit of the Second Vatican Council, Sacred Heart University welcomes men and women of all religious traditions and beliefs who share its concerns for truth, scholarship, the dignity of the human person, freedom, and the betterment of human society. It values religious diversity as enhancing the University community and creating opportunities for dialogue in the common search for truth. Through its curricular and co-curricular activities and campus ministry programs, the University provides the context in which students have the opportunity to appropriate in a critical fashion their own religious traditions.
Sacred Heart University challenges its students to think critically, analyze carefully, evaluate with a sense of justice and proportion, and convey conclusions in an intelligible and articulate fashion. The University provides the environment in which its students can develop the aesthetic dimension of life by nurturing their abilities to imagine, create, and appreciate. It assists students to acquire their responsibilities as conveyors and creators of culture and family.

As a community of teachers and scholars, Sacred Heart University exists for the pursuit of truth. It joins with other colleges and universities in the task of expanding human knowledge and deepening human understanding. It encourages and supports the scholarly and artistic work of its faculty and students. Further, it has a responsibility to share its resources and its special gifts and talents for the betterment of the human community. All members of the University community are strongly encouraged to participate in the wider community through service to others, especially the poor.

From its founding, the University has been recognized for its caring approach to students. This approach expresses the University's belief that each student is born with a unique set of qualities and skills. It respects the personal and academic freedom of each of its members while at the same time fostering a genuine experience of community. By so doing, it creates the environment in which each person in the University shares in common goals and a common commitment to truth, justice and concern for others.

The Mace

During the Middle Ages, the wood mace clad in metal was an effective weapon in battle, but as newer and more powerful military arms developed, it was transformed into a symbol of dignity and authority.

The earliest ceremonial maces were borne by bodyguards of 12th century English and French kings; by the end of the 16th century, they were used widely by officials of English cities and towns. Today the use of the ceremonial mace is found in the British House of Parliament, carried before ecclesiastical dignitaries and in university and college commencements and convocations.

The Sacred Heart University Mace traditionally is carried by the senior tenured faculty member and represents the President’s responsibility as the chief academic and administrative officer of the University. Commissioned by President Anthony J. Cernera, Ph.D., to mark the University's 25th commencement, the mace is made of rosewood, mahogany, walnut and bronze.
