RUTH CARLSON HORN

Ruth Carlson Horn has played a leadership role in the arts development of Bridgeport and has dedicated many years to the enrichment of culture in the Greater Bridgeport community. Following the tradition of her family, distinguished for its generous support of community activities, she has guided the cultural programs of the Carlson Fund of the Bridgeport Area Foundation, and delighted area audiences by presenting the world's leading artists and musicians in premier appearances.

Among her creative innovations have been the Annual Bridgeport Symphony Contest for Gifted Young Instrumentalists, the Carlson Festival Series which presents the Carlson Promenade Concerts and the Carlson Festival of Arts and Music at Bridgeport and Fairfield Universities and elsewhere throughout the community.

Mrs. Horn is a founding member of the Bridgeport Symphony Society where she has served on the Board as the Vice President and on many committees. In the early years of the Symphony, she directed its promotional campaign, programmed the popular weekly radio program “Connecticut Symphony Supper Hours”, and originated the annual Connecticut Pops Week, and the annual Chamber of Commerce “Salute to the Symphony”.

Mrs. Horn has encouraged young artists through her work in obtaining grants-in-aid for the Bridgeport Arts for Youth Program and, establishing youth scholarships in the Music Preparatory Program at the University of Bridgeport, and supporting the Bridgeport Youth Orchestra. Her artistic vision most recently brought two more unique firsts to the greater Bridgeport area: the American premiere of the Bat-Dor Dance Company of Israel and the appearance of Beverly Sills and the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center at the American Shakespeare Theater.
