On Commencement Day, the members who make up the University wear special clothes and disport themselves in a special way. After all, the very day, this day, is special.

The black gowns and colorful attire worn by so many today on this site stand for reasons that are long established, historic, organic and symbolic.

The scholars and students in medieval universities, out of which we emerge, were clerics, friars, monks and priests. In fact, the university as we know it originates ex corde ecclesiae, out of the heart of the church. This is no longer the case, of course, but much of what we will see today has a respectable and old pedigree.

The gowns, hoods and hats began life as ecclesiastical vesture.

Commencement is part of a venerable history of ritual, a rite of passage, with special language, protocol, clothes, gestures and symbols. Today we are part of something bigger than ourselves, bigger than Sacred Heart University and bigger than American higher education: we are part of a ritual that goes back for centuries.

Although today we partake in an old tradition, we do it our way, the Sacred Heart way. This is our iteration of a storied rite.

Sacred Heart was founded 56 years ago. Our students now, as then, will process with their hoods, caps or mortarboards and receive their diplomas. You will see that re-enacted shortly for your daughter, son, partner, spouse, parent or sibling as they come on stage. Soon, they will process to this space. Allow me now to tell you briefly how that will unfold.

The first person you will see is the mace bearer. At one time a deadly weapon in the medieval armory, the mace now serves a more benign purpose, used ceremonially at the opening of parliaments, as well as university convocations. Sacred Heart commissioned a new mace in commemoration of the University’s 50th anniversary. Made of rosewood with two antique, silver-plated brass seals of the University and brass braiding, it is borne aloft by the University Assembly president. It is a symbol of authority.

Following the mace bearer are the student government executive board, the senior class officers and the graduates of the College of Arts & Sciences, the Jack Welch College of Business, the College of Health Professions, the College of Nursing, the Isabelle Farrington College of Education and St. Vincent’s College. Then our alumni, spanning the University’s five decades of history, will march in brilliant red robes. Sacred Heart’s faculty and staff will follow, concluding with the stage party, the composition of which includes trustees, the honorandi, the deans, vice-presidents, provost and president.

In addition to those today who will be awarded earned degrees, the University bestows honorary degrees on individuals who have been designated by the University’s Board of Trustees as deserving special honor.

Along with the Commencement ceremony’s resplendent color and rich language, we also have music provided by the Sacred Heart University Band, the Sacred Heart University Brass Quintet and the Commencement Choir.

A truly festive occasion.

From the narration written and delivered by Dr. Michael W. Higgins, Distinguished Professor of Catholic Thought.

The Name. Sacred Heart University was founded in 1963 by the Most Rev. Walter W. Curtis, S.T.D., the second bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport, to provide an institution of higher education that would serve the people of the diocese and region, regardless of their sex, race, creed or religion. In October 1962, Bishop Curtis announced both the plan to open a college the following September, and its name, “Sacred Heart.” The choice of name had a dual origin: it was the name of the bishop’s first pastorate in Bloomfield, N.J., and was a pledge from the bishop attesting to the value of such an institution.

The Mission. Sacred Heart University is a coeducational, independent, comprehensive institution of higher learning rooted in the Catholic intellectual tradition and liberal arts. It embraces a vision for social justice and educates students in mind, body and spirit to prepare them personally and professionally to make a difference in the global community.

Sacred Heart University is Catholic in tradition and spirit. As a Catholic university, it seeks to play its appropriate role in the modern world. It exemplifies in its life the Judeo-Christian values of the God-given freedom and dignity of every person. Inspired by the ecumenical spirit of the Second Vatican Council, Sacred Heart University welcomes men and women of all religious traditions and beliefs who share its concerns for truth, scholarship, human dignity, freedom and the betterment of society. It values religious diversity as enhancing the University community and creating opportunities for dialogue in the common search for truth.

Through its curricular and co-curricular activities and campus ministry programs, the University provides the context in which students have the opportunity to appropriate their own religious traditions in a critical fashion. Sacred Heart University challenges its students to think critically, analyze carefully, evaluate with a sense of justice and proportion and convey conclusions in an intelligible and articulate fashion. The University provides the environment in which its students can develop the aesthetic dimension of life by nurturing their abilities to imagine, create and appreciate. It enables students to acquire a rich understanding of their own cultural and family heritages, so as to assume their responsibilities as conveyors and creators of culture and family. As a community of teachers and scholars, Sacred Heart University exists for the pursuit of truth. It joins with other colleges and universities in the task of expanding human knowledge and deepening human understanding. It encourages and supports the scholarly and artistic work of its faculty and students. Further, it has a responsibility to share its resources and its special gifts and talents for the betterment of the human community. All members of the University community are strongly encouraged to participate in the wider community through service to others, especially the poor. From its founding, the University has been recognized for its caring approach to students. This approach expresses the University’s belief that each student is born with a unique set of qualities and skills. It respects the personal and academic freedom of each of its members, while at the same time fostering a genuine experience of community. By so doing, it creates the environment in which each person in the University shares in common goals and a common commitment to truth, justice and concern for others.

The official seal of Sacred Heart University was introduced on July 22, 1963. The original pen-and-ink drawing hangs in the diocesan museum at The Catholic Center in Bridgeport. The seal consists of a shield surrounded by the inscription, Universitas Sacri Cordis, in large letters. The shield comprises a dexter—the right-hand side of a shield (the left, as seen by the viewer)—and a sinister, the left-hand side of a shield. The dexter impalement bears the jurisdictional arms of the Bridgeport diocese. The bridge above waves of flowing water affords an apt expression of the name of the diocese that encompasses Fairfield County, Connecticut, where Sacred Heart University is located. The bridge represents service, which forges strong bonds of understanding and unity among diverse constituencies, while the vivifying water symbolizes the “port” by which new knowledge and ideas energize the scholars who commit themselves to the disciplines of academic inquiry. The Cross of Our Faith above the bridge dignifies the other symbols and identifies the University as a community that celebrates the richness of the Catholic intellectual traditions.

The sinister impalement displays the personal coat of arms of the Most Rev. Walter W. Curtis, S.T.D., the founder of Sacred Heart University and the second bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport. The central checkered bar, taken from the Curtis family coat of arms, suggests the collaborative nature of the learning community, in which each individual member contributes to the integrity of the whole. The two diamond-shaped lozenges, taken from the Costello family shield to honor the bishop’s mother, are placed in the upper portion to highlight the University’s two most precious treasures: Love, the compassion of God as symbolized in the Sacred Heart of Jesus; and Truth, the goal of all scholarly activity. The University shield also honors Mary, the Seat of Wisdom, by including the crescent moon, which is the symbol of Our Lady under the title of the Immaculate Conception, chosen to signify the years that Bishop Curtis spent as a professor of moral theology at Immaculate Conception Seminary.

The Mace. During the Middle Ages, the wood mace clad in metal was an effective battle weapon, but as newer and more powerful military arms developed, it transformed into a symbol of dignity and authority. The earliest ceremonial maces were borne by bodyguards of 12th-century English and French kings; by the end of the 16th century, they were used widely by officials of English cities and towns. Today, use of the ceremonial mace is found in the British House of Parliament, carried before ecclesiastical dignitaries and borne in university and college commencements and convocations. The Sacred Heart University mace, which serves as a visible reminder of the University’s history, authority and status, is carried by the president of the University Academic Assembly. Sacred Heart commissioned a new mace in commemoration of the University’s 50th anniversary. It is a 54-inch mace with two, three-inch, antique, silver-plated brass medals and brass braiding on the rosewood staff. The new mace signifies the growth of Sacred Heart during the past 56 years, as well as its continued commitment to tradition and academic rigor.

Academic Dress. Tradition holds that the cap and gown were first used in ancient Greece, when only youths with wealthy parents or those with patrons attended school. The wise teachers of the time believed scholars should not wear fine clothing and jewels but rather, that the scholar should wear worker’s garments. In the United States, the gown commonly worn for both the associate’s and bachelor’s degrees has pointed sleeves (with a slit for the arm). It is designed to be worn closed. The gown for the master’s degree has an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist. The gown for the doctoral degree has bell-shaped open sleeves. All gowns are black and without trimming, with the exception of the doctoral gown, which normally is trimmed with velvet, has three bars or chevrons on the sleeves and may be in distinctive color(s) governed by the school granting that degree. The master’s and doctoral gowns may be worn open.

Upon graduation, students of old carried a mortarboard showing them to be masons of the future, destined to build empires or cities or fountains of wisdom on the firm foundation of knowledge. To this day, graduates wear mortarboard caps, symbolizing that they are builders of the future.

The history of the hood, with which degree recipients are invested, dates back to 13th-century England. Whether its origin is ecclesiastical or secular has never been settled. Hoods are two-and-one-half feet long for the associate degree, three feet for the bachelor’s, three-and-one-half feet for the master’s and four feet for the doctoral degree. The hood is lined with the colors of the institution—red and grey, in the case of Sacred Heart University. The trim color indicates the academic degree: white for arts, letters and humanities (B.A.) and golden yellow for science (B.S.). The hoods of those with graduate degrees, as well as the tassels on the undergraduates’ mortarboards, are often in the color associated with the academic field of specialization, as follows:

- WHITE: Arts, Letters and Humanities
- APRICOT: Nursing
- SLATE BLUE: Occupational Therapy
- DRAB: Business
- DARK BLUE: Philosophy
- LIGHT BLUE: Education
- GREEN: Physician Assistant
- BROWN: Fine Arts
- TEAL: Physical Therapy
- PURPLE: Law
- GOLDEN YELLOW: Science
- CRIMSON: Media Studies
- PINK: Music
- SCARLET: Sociology, Social Work and Criminal Justice
- TEAL: Theology and Religious Studies

Executive Director, Hope for a Healthier Humanity

Mary Healey-Sedutto, executive director of Hope for a Healthier Humanity, has held many senior management positions in the metropolitan New York City area. For more than 30 years, she served as a visionary leader in health-care systems, including president and chief executive officer of the Catholic Health Care System in the Archdiocese of New York. In this role, she worked with John Cardinal O’Connor and other health-care and medical leaders to establish a strong, comprehensive and accessible model of health-care delivery in the Archdiocese.

In 2001, she stepped out of corporate life to follow her passion of serving the poor. She and her husband, Stanley Kosan, DDS, founded Hope for a Healthier Humanity, a charitable foundation that offers strategic planning and technical health-care delivery support, donations of medical equipment and supplies and teams of visiting physicians, dentists and nurses who provide pro bono services to Caribbean and Latin American countries. Oscar Cardinal Rodriguez Maradiaga is chairman of the organization’s executive board.

Healy-Sedutto also founded the Pan American Catholic Health Care Network, a charitable organization with Catholic approbation from the Holy See, Vatican. With an international board of trustees, the organization engages in strategic planning in collaboration with Hope for a Healthier Humanity in Panama, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico and the Dominican Republic.

She received her doctorate in public administration from New York University.

BRIAN HAMILTON ’87 MBA

Founder of the Brian Hamilton Foundation
Cofounder of Sageworks

Brian Hamilton, entrepreneur, inventor and philanthropist, cofounded Sageworks, the country’s first fintech and largest provider of software to U.S. banks. He sold the company to a leading private equity firm in 2018. He is also the founder of Inmates to Entrepreneurs, a national program that helps people with criminal records start their own small businesses, and the Brian Hamilton Foundation, which provides access to entrepreneurship to people who wouldn’t otherwise have it.

Hamilton holds multiple patents for his work automating financial analysis. He is a frequent guest on CNBC and Fox and is regularly quoted in and writes for all the major national media publications. He is also a contributor to Inc. and Entrepreneur magazines.

The first in his family to attend college, Hamilton holds an undergraduate degree from Sacred Heart University, where he previously served on the Board of Trustees, and an MBA from Duke University’s graduate school of business.

The preceding does not constitute an official graduation list. The students listed here were candidates for the degree or honor at the program’s printing deadline. Latin honors for undergraduate students as announced at the undergraduate commencement ceremony were calculated as of the end of the Fall 2018 semester.
Thank you to members of the class of 2019 who contributed to the Senior Class Gift Campaign. The philanthropic spirit across campus is vibrant, with graduating seniors helping to set a new University student philanthropy participation record. More than 450 seniors have given back to elements of the Sacred Heart community that matter the most to them, including scholarship support, academic programs, performing arts, student organizations, athletic teams and volunteer service initiatives.

Students wearing silver cords today with their academic regalia are recognized for making special gifts of $20.19 in honor of their graduation year.

Best of luck to all of you in the next chapter of your lives. We hope you always consider Sacred Heart University your home away from home.
