Nelson Broms
Vice Chairman, iQ NetSolutions

Nelson Broms is the vice chairman of iQ NetSolutions, Inc., and currently serves as senior advisor to the chairman of UtiliCorp United, as well as Distinguished Visiting Entrepreneur at Columbia University.

Prior to his current posts, Mr. Broms was chairman, president and CEO of the Equitable Life Holding Corporation. He has served as a director, executive officer or senior advisor to corporate executives for a number of companies, including Financial Security Assurance Holdings Ltd.; Clayton Dubilier, Cortecs, Inc., Preferred Healthcare, Ltd., US Physical Therapy, Inc., Contel, Inc., and Primark, Inc.

Mr. Broms also served in the United States Army for seven years and earned a Bronze Star. His service included the position of General Staff Officer in General Patton's Headquarters Third Army, and Assistant G-1 of the Headquarters Ninth Army. He also served in the Korean War.

He has founded and is involved with several civic and community organizations. These organizations include the Council on Economics & National Security; Ethics Resource Center in Washington, D.C.; GOPAC; Hofstra University Council; Manhattan Institute for Policy Research; Spoleto Festival in Charleston, South Carolina; Stamford Theater Works; Women's Museum for the Arts in Washington, D.C.; and the Family Academy in New York City.

Sacred Heart University takes great pride in saluting this accomplished and caring business leader and public citizen. Nelson Broms has served his country, his family, his industry and the larger community with distinction and great care. We are honored this 19th day of May, 2002, to bestow on him the degree, Doctor of Laws, honoris causa.

John H. Lienhard, Ph.D.

Professor Emeritus,
University of Houston

An author and educator, John H. Lienhard, Ph.D., is perhaps best known as the on-air voice of The Engines of Our Ingenuity. This popular feature enjoys a loyal following in America on National Public Radio, including Sacred Heart University's own WSHU, and internationally on Armed Forces Radio. He is also Professor Emeritus at the University of Houston, since 2000, and has held other posts at the University since 1989. These include M.D. Anderson Professor of Technology and Culture in the departments of Mechanical Engineering and History and Professor of Mechanical Engineering.

In addition to his work at the University of Houston, Dr. Lienhard has also taught at several other schools, including the University of Utah in Salt Lake City, the University of Kentucky, and the University of Exeter.

He is known for his research in the thermal sciences as well as in cultural history. He has published several books, including A Heat Transfer Textbook, 3rd edition; New Worlds to Seek: Pioneer Heinrich Lienhard in Switzerland and America, 1824-1846; James Turrell: Spirit and Light; and Down Under: Tunnels Past, Present, and Future.

He is an honorary member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) and a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS). Dr. Lienhard is the recipient of the 2000 Edwin F. Church Award, which recognizes his distinguished service in advancing mechanical engineering education. Earlier this year he received an honorary doctorate from the University of Houston.

Sacred Heart University is proud this 19th day of May, 2002, to celebrate the life and lessons of a virtual Renaissance man: a tireless scholar, a splendid teacher, a relentless synthesizer. We do great honor to ourselves to bestow the degree, Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa, on Dr. John H. Lienhard.

*Paul W. MacAvoy, Ph.D.
Williams Brothers Professor of Management Studies,
Yale University*

Professor Paul W. MacAvoy has divided his career activities among teaching, government staff, and corporate governance. Formerly Dean and now the Williams Brothers Professor of Management Studies at the Yale School of Management, he has been a faculty member at the MIT Sloan School, the University of Chicago Business School, and the Simon Graduate School of Business at the University of Rochester.

Professor MacAvoy served on the White House staff in President Gerald Ford's Council of Economic Advisors and was personal economic advisor to George H. W. Bush before his election (where he gained notoriety as inventor of the term "voodoo economics").

He has served on the boards of directors of several significant companies, including the Lafarge Corporation, at present, and AMAX Corporation, Alumax Corporation, Combustion Engineering, and the Chase Manhattan Bank. He is also the author of 20 books and numerous journal articles focusing on regulation of the energy, communications and transportation industries and on government regulation of the structure of the corporation.

Professor MacAvoy obtained his Bachelor of Arts degree from Bates College and his Master of Arts and doctoral degrees from Yale University. He has received many honors including the Wilbur Cross Medal from Yale in 1982 and an honorary degree from Bates College. He is also an elected member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Nationally recognized for his penetrating analyses of management issues, he has brought his expertise to bear in the "real world" of government and business. Sacred Heart University is proud to welcome this esteemed colleague, Dr. Paul W. MacAvoy, and to bestow on him this 19th day of May, 2002, the degree, Doctor of Laws, honoris causa.

University History

The Seal

The official seal of Sacred Heart University was introduced on July 22, 1963. It was designed by Frank Sullivan, an art teacher in New Jersey. Sullivan had been commissioned to design the seal by his friend, Dr. Maurice J. O'Sullivan, Sacred Heart University's first academic dean. The original pen and ink hangs in the diocesan museum at The Catholic Center in Bridgeport.

The original seal consists of a shield, a surrounding wreath of hearts and flowers, and the inscription "Universitas Sacri Cordis" in large letters on the outside of the seal and "Dioecesis Bridgeportensis, 1963" on the inner circle.

The shield consists of a dexter — the right-hand side of a shield (the left as seen by the viewer) — and a sinister, the left-hand side of a shield. The dexter impalement bears the jurisdictional arms of the Diocese of Bridgeport. The bridge above waves of flowing water affords an apt expression of the name of the diocese that encompasses Fairfield County, Connecticut, where Sacred Heart University is located. The bridge represents service, which forges strong bonds of understanding and unity between diverse constituencies, while the vivifying water symbolizes the "port" by which new knowledge and ideas energize the scholars who commit themselves to the disciplines of academic inquiry. The Cross of Our Faith above the bridge dignifies the other symbols and identifies the University as a community that celebrates the richness of the Catholic intellectual tradition.

The sinister impalement displays the personal coat of arms of the Most Rev. Walter W. Curtis, S.T.D., the founder of Sacred Heart University and the second Bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport. The central checkered bar, taken from the Curtis family coat of arms, suggests the collaborative nature of the learning community in which each individual member contributes to the integrity of the whole. The two diamond-shaped lozenges, taken from the Costello family shield to honor the Bishop's mother, are placed in the upper portion to highlight the University's two most precious treasures: Love, the compassion of God as symbolized in the Sacred Heart of Jesus, and Truth, the goal of all scholarly activity. The University shield also honors Mary, the Seat of Wisdom, by including the crescent moon, which is the symbol of Our Lady under the title of the Immaculate Conception, chosen to signify the years that Bishop Curtis spent as a professor of moral theology at Immaculate Conception Seminary.

The Name

Sacred Heart University was founded in 1963 by the Most Rev. Walter W. Curtis, S.T.D., the second Bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport, to provide an institution of higher education that would serve the needs of the people of the diocese and region, regardless of their sex, race, creed or religion.

In October 1962, Bishop Curtis announced both the plan to open a college the following September, and its name, "Sacred Heart." The choice of name had a dual origin: it was the name of the Bishop's first pastorate in Bloomfield, N.J., and was a pledge from the Bishop attesting to the value of such an institution.

The Mission

Sacred Heart University is a coeducational, independent, comprehensive institution of higher learning in the Catholic intellectual tradition whose primary objective is to prepare men and women to live in and make their contributions to the human community.

The University aims to assist in the development of people who are knowledgeable of self, rooted in faith, educated in mind, compassionate in heart, responsive to social and civic obligations, and able to respond to an ever-changing world. It does this by calling forth the intellectual potential of its students, nurturing each one's spiritual and moral growth, and deepening in them a sense of social responsibility. The University is committed to combining education for life with preparation for professional excellence.

Sacred Heart University is Catholic in tradition and spirit. As a Catholic university, it seeks to play its appropriate role in the modern world. It exemplifies in its life the Judeo-Christian values of the God-given freedom and dignity of every human person. Inspired by the ecumenical spirit of the Second Vatican Council, Sacred Heart University welcomes men and women of all religious traditions and beliefs who share its concerns for truth, scholarship, the dignity of the human person, freedom, and the betterment of human society. It values religious diversity as enhancing the University community and creating opportunities for dialogue in the common search for truth. Through its curricular and co-curricular activities and campus ministry programs, the University provides the context in which students have the opportunity to appropriate in a critical fashion their own religious traditions.

Sacred Heart University challenges its students to think critically, analyze carefully, evaluate with a sense of justice and proportion, and convey conclusions in an intelligible and articulate fashion. The University provides the environment in which its students can develop the aesthetic dimension of life by nurturing their abilities to imagine, create and appreciate. It assists students to acquire a rich understanding of their own cultural and family heritages so as to assume their responsibilities as conveyors and creators of culture and family.

As a community of teachers and scholars, Sacred Heart University exists for the pursuit of truth. It joins with other colleges and universities in the task of expanding human knowledge and deepening human understanding. It encourages and supports the scholarly and artistic work of its faculty and students. Further, it has a responsibility to share its resources and its special gifts and talents for the betterment of the human community. All members of the University community are strongly encouraged to participate in the wider community through service to others, especially the poor.

From its founding, the University has been recognized for its caring approach to students. This approach expresses the University's belief that each student is born with a unique set of qualities and skills. It respects the personal and academic freedom of each of its members while at the same time fostering a genuine experience of community. By so doing, it creates the environment in which each person in the University shares in common goals and a common commitment to truth, justice and concern for others.

The Mace

During the Middle Ages, the wood mace clad in metal was an effective weapon in battle, but as newer and more powerful military arms developed, it was transformed into a symbol of dignity and authority.

The earliest ceremonial maces were borne by bodyguards of 12th century English and French kings; by the end of the 16th century, they were used widely by officials of English cities and towns. Today, the use of the ceremonial mace is found in the British House of Parliament, carried before ecclesiastical dignitaries and in university and college commencements and convocations.

The Sacred Heart University Mace traditionally is carried by the senior tenured faculty member and represents the President's responsibility as the chief academic and administrative officer of the University. Commissioned by President Anthony J. Cernera, Ph.D., to mark the University's 25th commencement, the mace is made of rosewood, mahogany, walnut and bronze.

Academic Dress

Tradition holds that the cap and gown were first used in ancient Greece when only youths of wealthy parents or those with patrons attended school. The wise teachers of the time believed that fine clothing and jewels should not be worn by the scholar but rather, that the scholar should wear the garments of the worker.

In the United States, the gown commonly worn for both the associate's and bachelor's degrees has pointed sleeves (with a slit for the arm). It is designed to be worn closed. The gown for the master's degree has an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist. The gown for the doctoral degree has bell-shaped open sleeves. All gowns are black and without trimming with the exception of the doctoral gown, which normally is trimmed with velvet, has three bars or chevrons on the sleeves and may be in distinctive color(s) governed by the school granting that degree. The master's and doctoral gowns may be worn open.

Upon graduation, students of old carried a mortarboard showing them to be masons of the future destined to build empires or cities or fountains of wisdom on the firm foundation of knowledge. To this day, graduates wear mortarboard caps and gowns, symbolizing that they are builders of the future.

The history of the hood, with which degree recipients are invested, dates back to 13th century England. Whether its origin is ecclesiastical or secular has never been settled. Hoods are two-and-one-half feet long for the associate's, three feet for the bachelor's, three-and-one-half feet for the master's and four feet for the doctor's degree. The hood is lined with the colors of the institution — red and white, in the case of Sacred Heart University. The color of the trim indicates the academic degree — white for arts, letters and humanities (B.A.), golden yellow for science (B.S.).

The hoods of those with graduate degrees, as well as the tassels on the mortarboards of the undergraduates, are often in the color associated with the academic field of specialization, as follows:
