THE UNIVERSITY

The Name. Sacred Heart University was founded in 1963 by the Most Rev. Walter W. Curtis, S.T.D., the second Bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport, to provide an institution of higher education that would serve the needs of the people of the diocese and region, regardless of their sex, race, creed or religion. In October 1962, Bishop Curtis announced both the plan to open a college the following September, and its name, "Sacred Heart." The choice of name had a dual origin: it was the name of the Bishop's first pastorate in Bloomfield, N.J., and was a pledge from the Bishop attesting to the value of such an institution.

The Mission. Sacred Heart University is a coeducational, independent, comprehensive institution of higher learning in the Catholic intellectual tradition whose primary objective is to prepare men and women to live in and make their contributions to the human community. The University aims to assist in the development of people who are knowledgeable of self, rooted in faith, educated in mind, compassionate in heart, responsive to social and civic obligations and able to respond to an ever-changing world. It does this by calling forth the intellectual potential of its students, nurturing each one's spiritual and moral growth and deepening in them a sense of social responsibility. The University is committed to combining education for life with preparation for professional excellence. Sacred Heart University is Catholic in tradition and spirit. As a Catholic university, it seeks to play its appropriate role in the modern world. It exemplifies in its life the Judeo-Christian values of the God-given freedom and dignity of every human person. Inspired by the ecumenical spirit of the Second Vatican Council, Sacred Heart University welcomes men and women of all religious traditions and beliefs who share its concerns for truth, scholarship, the dignity of the human person, freedom and the betterment of human society. It values religious diversity as enhancing the University community and creating opportunities for dialogue in the common search for truth. Through its curricular and co-curricular activities and campus ministry programs, the University provides the context in which students have the opportunity to appropriate in a critical fashion their own religious traditions. Sacred Heart University challenges its students to think critically, analyze carefully, evaluate with a sense of justice and proportion and convey conclusions in an intelligible and articulate fashion. The University provides the environment in which its students can develop the aesthetic dimension of life by nurturing their abilities to imagine, create and appreciate. It assists students to acquire a rich understanding of their own cultural and family heritages so as to assume their responsibilities as conveyors and creators of culture and family. As a community of teachers and scholars, Sacred Heart University exists for the pursuit of truth. It joins with other colleges and universities in the task of expanding human knowledge and deepening human understanding. It encourages and supports the scholarly and artistic work of its faculty and students. Further, it has a responsibility to share its resources and its special gifts and talents for the betterment of the human community. All members of the University community are strongly encouraged to participate in the wider community through service to others, especially the poor. From its founding, the University has been recognized for its caring approach to students. This approach expresses the University's belief that each student is born with a unique set of qualities and skills. It respects the personal and academic freedom of each of its members, while at the same time fostering a genuine experience of community. By so doing, it creates the environment in which each person in the University shares in common goals and a common commitment to truth, justice and concern for others.

The official seal of Sacred Heart University was introduced on July 22, 1963. The original pen and ink hangs in the diocesan museum at The Catholic Center in Bridgeport. The seal consists of a shield surrounded by the inscription, UNIVERSITAS SACRI CORDIS, in large letters. The shield consists of a dexter — the right-hand side of a shield (the left as seen by the viewer) — and a sinister, the left-hand side of a shield. The dexter impalement bears the jurisdictional arms of the Diocese of Bridgeport. The bridge above waves of flowing water affords an apt expression of the name of the diocese that encompasses Fairfield County, Connecticut, where Sacred Heart University is located. The bridge represents service, which forges strong bonds of understanding and unity between diverse constituencies, while the vivifying water symbolizes the “port” by which new knowledge and ideas energize the scholars who commit themselves to the disciplines of academic inquiry. The Cross of Our Faith above the bridge dignifies the other symbols and identifies the University as a community that celebrates the richness of the Catholic intellectual tradition.

The sinister impalement displays the personal coat of arms of the Most Rev. Walter W. Curtis, S.T.D., the founder of Sacred Heart University and the second Bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport. The central checkered bar, taken from the Curtis family coat of arms, suggests the collaborative nature of the learning community in which each individual member contributes to the integrity of the whole. The two diamond-shaped lozenges, taken from the Costello family shield to honor the Bishop’s mother, are placed in the upper portion to highlight the University’s two most precious treasures: Love, the compassion of God as symbolized in the Sacred Heart of Jesus, and Truth, the goal of all scholarly activity. The University shield also honors Mary, the Seat of Wisdom, by including the crescent moon, which is the symbol of Our Lady under the title of the Immaculate Conception, chosen to signify the years that Bishop Curtis spent as a professor of moral theology at Immaculate Conception Seminary.

The Mace. During the Middle Ages, the wood mace clad in metal was an effective weapon in battle, but as newer and more powerful military arms developed, it was transformed into a symbol of dignity and authority. The earliest ceremonial maces were borne by bodyguards of 12th century English and French kings; by the end of the 16th century, they were used widely by officials of English cities and towns. Today, the use of the ceremonial mace is found in the British House of Parliament, carried before ecclesiastical dignitaries and in university and college commencements and convocations. The Sacred Heart University Mace is carried by the president of the University Academic Assembly and represents the President’s responsibility as the chief academic and administrative officer of the University. Commissioned by then-President Anthony J. Cernera, Ph.D., to mark the University’s 25th commencement, the mace is made of rosewood, mahogany, walnut and bronze.

Academic Dress. Tradition holds that the cap and gown were first used in ancient Greece when only youths of wealthy parents or those with patrons attended school. The wise teachers of the time believed that fine clothing and jewels should not be worn by the scholar but rather, that the scholar should wear the garments of the worker. In the United States, the gown commonly worn for both the associate’s and bachelor’s degrees has pointed sleeves (with a slit for the arm). It is designed to be worn closed. The gown for the master’s degree has an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist. The gown for the doctoral degree has bell-shaped open sleeves. All gowns are black and without trimming with the exception of the doctoral gown, which normally is trimmed with velvet, has three bars or chevrons on the sleeves and may be in distinctive color(s) governed by the school granting that degree. The master’s and doctoral gowns may be worn open. Upon graduation, students of old carried a mortarboard showing them to be masons of the future destined to build empires or cities or fountains of wisdom on the firm foundation of knowledge. To this day, graduates wear mortarboard caps and gowns, symbolizing that they are builders of the future. The history of the hood, with which degree recipients are invested, dates back to 13th century England. Whether its origin is ecclesiastical or secular has never been settled. Hoods are two-and-one-half feet long for the associate’s, three feet for the bachelor’s, three-and-one-half feet for the master’s and four feet for the doctor’s degree. The hood is lined with the colors of the institution — red and white, in the case of Sacred Heart University. The color of the trim indicates the academic degree — white for arts, letters and humanities (B.A.), golden yellow for science (B.S.). The hoods of those with graduate degrees, as well as the tassels on the mortarboards of the undergraduates, are often in the color associated with the academic field of specialization, as follows:

White Arts, Letters and Humanities	Crimson Media Studies	Teal Physical Therapy
Drab Business	Pink Music	Golden Yellow Science
Light Blue Education	Apricot Nursing	Citron Sociology, Social Work and Criminal Justice
Brown Fine Arts	Slate Blue Occupational Therapy	Scarlet Theology and Religious Studies
Purple Law	Dark Blue Philosophy

Chief Executive Officer of St. Vincent's Health Services

Susan L. Davis, Ed.D., R.N. is chief executive officer of St. Vincent's Health Services, which is a member of Ascension Health. She serves as Ascension's market leader for the region that includes New York, Florida, Alabama's Gulf Coast and Connecticut. Dr. Davis provides operational leadership for St. Vincent's Health Services, while promoting strategic alignment among Health Ministries within her markets on issues related to mission and vision. She came to St. Vincent's from an 18-year career at Vassar Brothers Medical Center in Poughkeepsie, NY, where she developed and implemented a variety of successful clinical services, including a new regional heart center for residents in upstate New York.

Dr. Davis is a hands-on leader who has been known to pitch in by donning her scrubs and working with her staff. Her considerable experience in nursing gives her a unique perspective as she puts her focus on patient safety and developing programs that respond to the needs of the community.

She received her bachelor's degree in nursing from Mt. Saint Mary College, Newburgh, NY, and her master's degree in nursing administration and doctorate of education with an emphasis on management from Columbia University. She is a fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives.

Since taking over as St. Vincent's CEO in 2004, Dr. Davis has presided over the opening of the region's most advanced operating suites and intensive care units and has launched the most ambitious technology upgrade in the Center's history. She is currently overseeing a $160 million dollar master facility plan, which is being supported by a $60 million capital campaign. Major components of the project include the new Elizabeth Pfriem SWIM Center for Cancer Care and the Michael J. Daly Center for Emergency and Trauma Care, which opened in early 2010.

St. Vincent's Health System includes the Medical Center, Southern Connecticut's largest behavioral health system; St. Vincent's College; St. Vincent's Special Needs, the state's largest center for children with disabilities; and St. Vincent's Foundation, which is one of Ascension's most successful foundations.

Most recently, St. Vincent's was selected by Quinnipiac University School of Medicine to develop a joint clinical partnership, which creates the third medical school in the State of Connecticut, with the first class scheduled for 2013.

Dr. Davis has received both local and national recognition for her commitment to the community and to volunteerism. She has been recognized for her service with the United Way, Hospice and the American Cancer Society in both New York and Connecticut. Her commitment to patient safety and excellent outcomes has made her a change agent at St. Vincent's and within the health care industry.
